My Thoughts on Sharing suppliers' names

Folks,

If we want to help keep our wonderful suppliers in the business of supplying us with goods and services, then we have to share their names and websites with one another.

That's it. That is my philosophy. I got it from my Dad.

I'm sharing this list, with you. The suppliers that I have listed here are ones that I have used and found to be reliable for my business and art. You may have some that you would like to share with me. please drop me a line about it. I will add to this list from time to time, so please come back to check again.

Best,

Denise
